Change of plans.

I've always been the kind of guy who when I make up my mind about something I believe is God's plan I go forward without any "Plan B". However, plans don't always work out the way we think they will. I have been praying about this idea of going to America for over 6 months and have a complete peace about it, believing that it is a plan inspired by God. We were going to the US to minister to believers, to present the vision God has given us for Thailand and also to look for people who share this calling to come to join us.

Much of our plan was dashed when Mew was denied a visa. I cannot possibly go to the US for 6 months and leave her alone. It is a fact that the girls are moving there to study and I need to accompany them to get them settled, however we had to adjust the timeframe a bit.

It is very disappointing about Mew's visa as well as the fact that we spent quite a lot of money on travel and visa fees just to apply for the visa.

We have decided that I will accompany the girls to the US; we will leave Thailand September 6th and I will return November 9th.

We are hoping to travel to Colorado to visit friends and hope to minister while we are there. I still believe the Lord has put a message in my heart for believers in the US, especially for those preparing for ministry.

I can't say why things have worked out like this; I can only imagine that God has a better plan in mind for us. Perhaps 6 months in the US will not be necessary in order to reach the right people, to minister and for divine appointments.

We are disappointed that we will not be able to visit everyone like we had previously planned, but we will do what we can in the time we have.

We are so thankful for the support that came in to help with the travel expenses and for the faithful support of our partners. We could not do any of this without you.

We still need help financially for this trip and for the girl's education. You may help the girls at their Gofundme link here:

You may also help us overall at our Partnership and Giving Link here:

Please continue to pray for us and let us know as soon as possible if you would like us to minister in your church, Bible study group or other meetings. We are always happy to be of service in any way that we can. I want to make sure to use the short time I have in the US as wisely and effectively as possible.

We are looking forward to seeing as many of you as possible.

Bless you,
